My Time at Woking Swimming Club:

Woking swimming club truly made my career and journey the amazing experience it was and helped me work towards and achieve my goals. I always had close relationships with my coaches, and I trusted in them every step of the way, a huge factor in my success. I had the most amazing friends at the club and everyone that I trained with day in and out made for all the incredible memories I hold today. I loved being a part of such a tight community who supported one and another every year, pushing everyone to be the best they could. Vince was my coach up until 2016 and was with me through incredible highlights such as my first national medals and British records. My last two years with Mark, working through the Commonwealth Games were ones I will never forget and taught me so much about the sport.

My time at University:

I went to Edinburgh University in 2018 originally to read a Sports Science degree that fit perfectly alongside the rigorous training schedule of the performance swim team. A highlight from my first year was competing in Norway and Canada and doing a 3-week altitude camp in Sierre Nevada. I loved my first year at University but felt a change was needed when I did eventually decide to retire from swimming. I am now studying Sustainable Development (MA) and absolutely love it. I transitioned from swimming by taking up both lacrosse and netball again and I have loved being back in a team environment and enjoying the recreational side of sport that I missed from school. I am set to go on a Semester abroad to Melbourne University as part of my third year and cannot wait to travel and study in a new location.
